

HUERTA IN RECEIPT
OF ULTIMATUMAmerica Will Tolerate
No More Delay.CONSIDERS MEXICAN REQUEST INSOLENTPresident Wilson Declines to Agree to Simultaneous Firing of a Salute.

Washington, April 18.—The confidence of the administration that the acute Mexican situation had cleared has been shattered and the president and his advisers are still in grave doubt as to future developments.

A new inquiry received from Huerta amounting to a stipulation by him that the United States should agree to fire a salute to the American flag simultaneously to the salute that he would render to the American colors was regarded by the Washington government as insolent and entirely out of accord with the spirit of the demand which the United States had made on account of the affront to the American flag and the American uniform.

As a result Huerta is in receipt of a reply from this government which is in effect an ultimatum. He has been given to understand in as forceful language as this government properly can employ that the reparation must be rendered for the Tampico insult by a salute of twenty-one guns in the exact manner originally demanded by Admiral Mayo and that this government will tolerate no further dalliance.

It is, therefore, up to Huerta to say whether he will order the salute of twenty-one guns or whether he will take the consequences.

Fleet May Seize Ports.

If he refuses the Atlantic fleet, now hurrying toward Tampico, will blockade and seize all the ports on the gulf coast and the United States naval vessels on the Pacific coast will undertake a similar campaign in those waters. The president's plan now is exactly as it was before the renewal of negotiations by Huerta. The customs houses will be seized and will be held until such time as the Mexican government will render adequate satisfaction to the demands of the United States.

The unofficial declaration from Senator Portillo y Rojas, Huerta's minister for foreign affairs, that the return salute would be regarded as a tacit recognition of the Huerta government, received no attention from administration officials, who pointed out that no such construction of the salute had been suggested at any time by the Huerta government in its formal communication with the United States.

"Recognition is not extended by inadvertence, but by intent," a high administration official said.

Salute Not Recognition.

Under no circumstances will the salute be given to the Huerta government, but to the Mexican flag as representing the Mexican nation, and no question of recognition is involved, according to Secretary Tumulty, who said that the Huerta government interjected in the negotiations a desire that the salute be considered as recognition it would not have been considered for a minute.

While developments made the outlook for a peaceful settlement much less favorable the president and his advisers still insisted that the situation is "promising."

Secretary Bryan's note to Charge O'Shaughnessy was final in terms and full of the strength which seems now so necessary to observers here.

There seems to be no further doubt that, as a result of expressions at the cabinet meeting the president is through negotiating with Huerta and the final Bryan note has said, in substance, that the salute must be fired by Huerta and that this government will carry out Rear Admiral Mayo's original promise to return the salute. The note is said by high officials who have read it to instruct Mr. O'Shaughnessy that this government has made its position known for the last time and will not deal very courteously with any further "inquiries" from the wily Mexican president.

Think Huerta Will Yield.

In view of all these things, although the Bryan note is said not to fix a time limit for the firing of the salute, the expectation in official circles here is that Huerta will yield to the demands of the United States.

The possibility still exists, of course, that the desperate Mexican, whose doors already are being besieged by Villa, will choose to defy the United States in the hope of posing as the defender of Mexico's "national honor" and uniting the factions now leagued against him. Huerta's general course has hitherto been a cautious one, however, and the administration officials believe that the Tampico incident will be settled before another twenty-four hours have rolled around.

MERGER REFERENDUM LOST

Railroad Employees Refuse to Submit Amalgamation Plan.

Kansas City, April 18.—A proposal for a referendum vote on a proposition to amalgamate the railroad workers of the country into one organization was voted down at the session of the railroad employees' department of the American Federation of Labor after a lively debate.

The fight against referring the question to the rank and file of the workers was led by the international officers of the present trades unions, whose positions, it is said, would be done away with under the new plan.

Made Public.

Washington, April 18.—The navy department made public a message from Admiral Fletcher containing Admiral Mayo's original demand for a salute to the flag, addressed in writing by Admiral Mayo to the Mexican General Velasco at Tampico, on April 9.

The communication recounts the facts concerning the arrest of the bluejackets and adds the demand on the Mexicans.

"The responsibility of a hostile act cannot be avoided by the plea of ignorance."

"In view of the publicity of this occurrence I must require that you send by suitable members of your staff formal disavowal and apology for the act, with your assurance that the officer responsible for it will receive severe punishment. Also that you publicly hoist the United States flag in a prominent position on shore and salute it with twenty-one guns. The salute will be returned by this ship."

"Your answer to this communication should reach me and the called for salute within twenty-four hours from 6 p. m. of this date."

ARGUES FOR "POOR DEVILS"

Common Stockholders Are Entitled to Road's Surplus.

New York, April 18.—The injunction suit brought by holders of preferred stock of the Union Pacific Railroad company to determine whether the company could distribute a dividend of approximately $82,000,000 in cash and Baltimore and Ohio stock among holders of common stock of the road was argued before the appellate division of the supreme court. Justice Greenbaum of the lower court had ruled in favor of the common stockholders.

John G. Milburn, for the railroad company, explained that the holders of the common stock, whom he called "poor devils," were the ones who had made all the sacrifices and paid for all the dealings which had brought about the immense surplus.

Is Arraigned in Connection With Killing of Chauffeur.

Albany, N. Y., April 18.—Malcolm Gifford, Jr., nineteen-year-old son of a wealthy manufacturer of Hudson, N. Y., is in jail here charged with the murder of Frank J. Clute, a chauffeur.

Clute was shot to death on April 1, 1913, while driving an unidentified man to Troy from here. The passenger shot Clute in the back of the head, robbed him, threw his body into a ditch and fled.

Recently property belonging to Clute was found under an eave of the house where Gifford stayed on the night of the killing.

Cleveland, April 18.—John Szor returned from a six months' visit to Hungary to find that his wife had obtained a divorce during his absence. He killed her, cutting her throat, and then, using the same knife, committed suicide.

HOUSE WASTES
TIME IN DEBATESRepresentatives Want to Shut Off Unnecessary Talk.

DELAY IMPORTANT MATTERS

More Time Consumed In Discussing
Minor Appropriation Bills Than Panama Tolls Question—Ex-Senators
From Idaho Given Government Positions at Expiration of Terms.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 18.—[Special].—Twenty-four years ago Tom Reed, assisted by a narrow Republican majority, revised the rules of the house of representatives so that it could "do business." Under the system which Reed invented the house of representatives has been operated as a business legislative body and yet it is not able to do business in anything like a business manner at the present time.

In the matter of considering appropriation bills the business organization has broken down, and day after day is spent in fussing over small items, inconsequential happenings in the departments, including a great deal of discussion, which should have been confined entirely to the committee room. So much time is taken with the appropriation bills that the house does not get time to consider other matters.

A Case In Point.

Take the matter of the repeal of the Panama canal tolls. There was a terrific clamor for time to debate that subject. The house invoked the old Reed rule of shutting off debate, shutting off amendment and limiting the talk to twenty hours on the greatest question that has been before congress since the acquisition of the Philippines and gave no opportunity to amend or change the bill before the house. And yet one appropriation bill which will finally pass practically in the shape it came from the committee on appropriations consumed four times as much time in the house as the Panama canal debate, and scarcely a single thing was mentioned that interested any considerable number of people.

The time is coming when this inconsequential debate will cause a revolt and the Reed rules will be invoked to shut off so much discussion on these minor matters in appropriations.

Were Idaho Senators.

The appointment of Henry Heitfeld as an officer of the land office recalls the fact that he is the second senator from Idaho who has been given a minor position in after life. The other was William J. McConnell, who served Idaho about two months when the state was first admitted. He became an Indian inspector.

Heitfeld served six years, and his election shows how the man helped himself. There had been several ballots in the Idaho legislature for senator because there were three parties, none of which had a majority. One day enough Populists and Democrats voted for Heitfeld and came within one of electing him. Heitfeld was a member of the legislature and had been voting for some other man. Arising in his place, he announced that he changed his vote to Heitfeld. He elected himself.

Townsend's Explanation.

The day that the Republicans were roasting the Democrats about the election in the Seventh New Jersey district Congressman Townsend, the author and newspaper man, started to explain why it all happened and said that the president did not know when he made his pre-election statement the conditions in that New Jersey district.

"Why didn't you tell the president so that he wouldn't have put his foot in that hole?" asked Seneca Payne of New York.

"I am not in a position to tell the president anything, because I am persona non grata at the White House," replied Townsend. "If I had charge of communications directed to the president I could have informed him of some important facts of the past which would have resulted in his good." The house rather enjoyed itself at the expense of the author of "Chimmie Fadden."

A Democratic Senator From Iowa (?).
Congressman Volmer of Iowa, speaking in the house the other day, told the members they might just as well begin calling Congressman Connolly "senator" for he would be the next senator from that state. It will be rather strange to see a Democratic senator from Iowa. It is doubtful whether there is anybody now living who has ever seen a Democrat in the senate from that state.

The Inappropriate Time.

John Sharp Williams was telling a story, and Senator Borah sought to interrupt him. "The Idaho senator ought to understand," said Williams, "that if there is any point in the world where it is inappropriate to interrupt a man it is when he is in the midst of an anecdote."

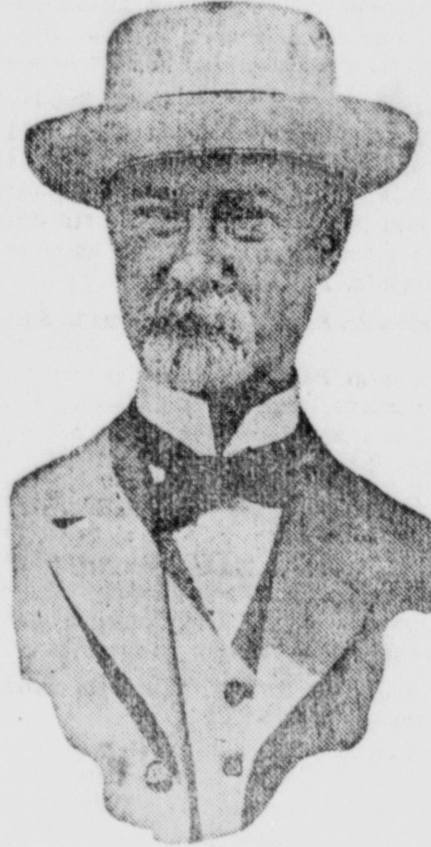

"The story would be a whole lot better," replied Borah, "if the senator would tell it as he tells it in the cloak room."

"An old friend down on the Yazoo," replied Williams, "used to coin words and one of them was 'inappropriate.' There are occasions when there is a great deal of 'inappropriateness' in telling a story."

Frankfort, Ind., April 18.—Charles W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, former vice president, was injured slightly when the speakers' stand on the courthouse lawn collapsed during the Arbor day exercises here.

In company with Mayor Gard and other officials Mr. Fairbanks was reviewing a parade of high school children when the structure suddenly collapsed.

Mr. Fairbanks sustained an injury to his right leg and numerous bruises.

COURT RULES LAWS
FORBID VIVISECTIONHolds Science Does Not Justify Cruelty to Animals.

Philadelphia, April 18.—An important interpretation of Pennsylvania law on vivisection was made in the trial of Dr. Joshua E. Sweet, charged with wanton cruelty to dogs after operations, when Judge F. Amodeo Bregy, in addressing the jury in criminal court, said that a person that is guilty of wanton, cruel torture of an animal shall be guilty of a crime, even though the cruel treatment be done for scientific purposes.

Dr. Sweet is assistant professor of surgical research in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania and has been on trial for three days. Five other members of the medical faculty of the university are under indictment for alleged cruel treatment of dogs after operations.

Judge Bregy's interpretation of the laws of Pennsylvania on the matter of cruelty to animals in connection with vivisection is said to be the first ever made in the state.

PIONEER ARCHITECT DEAD

Augustin F. Knight Settled in St. Paul in 1856.

St. Paul, April 18.—Augustin F. Knight, dean of Minnesota architects and one of the oldest members of his profession in the country, died suddenly while reading in his room at the Lambert hotel. He was eighty-three years old.

He fought in the Civil and Indian wars. He came to St. Paul in 1856 and since has been a prominent figure. In recent years he was too old for practice of his profession and has passed out of the lives of the younger generation.

Mr. Knight was born in New York state. He was graduated from the Troy Polytechnic school at Troy, N. Y.

Too Commercial.

"This is indeed a very commercial age," said a senator. "Take this artist's experience. A picture dealer entered a well known artist's studio in Boston the other day and bargained for a large canvas—a landscape of meadowland and cattle. When the price was agreed on and paid, the dealer took out his knife and, to the artist's horror, with one sweep of the blade, cut the canvas in two."

"There now," said the dealer complacently, "I have two pictures, one of beautiful meadowland and a lake, the other of an interesting group of cattle. I can get for each about what I paid you for the whole canvas. Now sign this half, too."—Washington Star.

the Woman and Himself and Then Set the Building on Fire.

Geddes, S. D., April 18.—Developments in the killing of W. H. Menzie and Miss Blanche Signal, whose bodies were found in the ruins of a lumber office here, point strongly to murder and suicide.

Examination of the body of Menzie disclosed a bullet hole through the head, entering on the right side, penetrating the brain and leaving on the left side. A pistol, which had been kept in the office for protection, was found in the ruins at a spot near where his body lay. One exploded shell was found in the weapon and another shot seemed to have blown the gun barrel off.

The robbery theory apparently was shattered by the discovery that no money was taken from Menzie, a considerable sum being found in his clothing.

Menzie was known widely in the state as a promoter of the farmers' co-operative idea.

DROPS 250 FEET TO DEATH

Workman on St. Paul's New Cathedral
Is Killed.

St. Paul, April 18.—Falling 250 feet from where he was at work in the top-most pinnacle of the new Roman Catholic cathedral, Michael Hofer, aged twenty-four, an ironworker, was instantly killed. Nearly every bone of the man's body was broken.

Hofer, who was employed by Contractor W. J. Hoy, had been at work on the cathedral building only about two weeks. Together with Richard Best, another ironworker, he was assisting in hoisting a beam, when, it is said, the rope broke.

The sudden release of the heavy weight threw young Hofer over and in an instant his body was shooting toward the ground.

At the same time Best was striving to regain his balance, lost when the beam gave him a blow on the shoulder. He was saved from Hofer's fate only because his hand fortunately caught a support. However, his shoulder was severely injured by the beam.

BOY'S STORY SAVES MOTHER

Hands of His Wife.

St. Louis, April 18.—The story of a three-year-old boy determined the coroner's jury to return a verdict of justifiable homicide at the inquest here in the death of Harry G. Schuerman, who was shot by his wife last Tuesday.

The boy, Charles Schuerman, the son of the slain man, told his story of the tragedy, of which he was a witness, as follows:

"Papa came to the house and started a fight with mamma. Mamma says, 'Stay back, stay back,' and then mamma shot papa."

"Did your papa have anything in his hand?" asked the deputy coroner.

"Yes, a butcher knife," the boy replied.

New York, April 18.—Oscar Hammerstein and his son Arthur are restrained from producing either comic or grand opera in Boston and New York until April 26, 1920, according to a decision of the appellate division of the supreme court.

The complaint against Hammerstein was filed by the Metropolitan Opera company and stated that Hammerstein agreed not to produce opera in Boston or New York for ten years if the Metropolitan would purchase Hammerstein's Philadelphia opera house for $1,200,000.

The election of John Lind as a director came as a direct result of his newly awakened interest in the navy incident to his experience in Mexico.

Attempt to Kill Mayor Enrages
New Yorkers.

CRANK SHOTS AT MITCHEL

Michael P. Mahoney, an Apparently Irresponsible Elderly Man, Claiming to Feel Aggrieved at the Mayor's Alleged Extravagant Expenditures, Tries to Assassinate Him Near the City Hall.

New York, April 18.—Thousands of angry persons surged back and forth in the city hall plaza and Park Row demanding immediate punishment by lynching of the man who shot at Mayor John Purroy Mitchell and wounded Frank L. Polk, corporation counsel.

Within thirty seconds after the shooting the plaza was flooded with a surging crowd and the police were called out.

As the assassin was led out of the traffic police station into the ambulance that carried him to police headquarters the crowd lunged toward him, but was driven back by the police.

It was thought at the time that the corporation counsel had lost most of his lower teeth and that the jawbone had been pierced in two places by the bullet, but a later report from the hospital said that only one tooth had been knocked out and that unless blood poisoning sets in the wound will not prove serious.

Assassin an Elderly Man.

The attempt to take the life of Mayor Mitchell was made by Michael P. Mahoney, an apparently irresponsible, elderly man, who later said he was a blacksmith out of work. Mahoney fired into a group of three men seated in the mayor's automobile, which stood at the east side of City Hall park. The bullet from his revolver entered the jaw of Corporation Counsel Polk, who was sitting next to the mayor in the tonneau of the automobile.

Mahoney shot at the mayor, he said, in the course of a disjointed statement extracted from him, because he felt aggrieved at the city executive's extravagant expenditures and because he was incensed at being turned back from the door of the mayor's room in the city hall on two occasions this week when he came to apply for a municipal job.

Mahoney fired only one shot. Before he could fire a second he was overcome by Detective George Neum, who, in the capacity of chauffeur, was adjusting robes about the men in the automobile, and the revolver was wrenched out of Mahoney's hands. The mayor sat in the middle of the back seat with Mr. Polk on his right and George W. Mullin, the mayor's former law partner, on his left.

Mayor Has Narrow Escape.

The bullet passed so close to Mayor Mitchell that the left side of his face was scorched. Standing within a few feet of Mahoney was Police Commissioner Arthur H. Woods, who was waiting for the chauffeur to get into the car, intending to sit beside the driver after the latter was seated.

As soon as he had seen that Mr. Polk received medical attention Mayor Mitchell went to the police station in the basement of the city hall, where Mahoney had been taken, and questioned him.

"Why did you shoot at me?" asked the mayor of Mahoney.

The mayor seemed as calm as if nothing unusual had happened. The prisoner's answer was incoherent and to the effect that he had nothing to say. Covering before his questioners he seemed hardly to know what he had done. He was slim and gaunt, wore a ragged fringe of white beard and was clad in an ill fitting suit.

The automobile which waited on Park Row was to take the mayor's party to lunch. In thirty seconds the car would have started. Just at that moment Mahoney, who had been standing on the fringe of a crowd not fifty yards away, attending a noon meeting of the unemployed and the Industrial Workers of the World, saw that Mayor Mitchell, with whom he had been trying to get an interview since last Monday, was within a few feet of him. As the mayor took his seat Mahoney drew a revolver from his coat pocket and shot at the executive.

ARMY MUTINY SPREADS TO COXEY'S MULE.

Louisville, O., April 18.—The first act of insubordination in the "army of unemployed," which "General" Jacob S. Coxey of Maessillon, O., is leading to Washington, developed on the way here from Canton. The mule that draws the phaeton in which Coxey rides balked at crossing a big puddle in the road. Thereafter David Coxey, eleven years old, led the way on his pony.

When the "army" arrived here the forces had been swelled to a total of thirty.

FIELD OF SPORTS

Gun Shoot, First of Season Tomorrow—Bowling Club Tournament—Baseball Practice

The Riverside Gun club holds its first shoot of the season Sunday morning. A bowling tournament is being arranged for at the Campbell alleys. The M. & I. rejuvenated baseball team is practicing evenings near the M. & I. ice house. Occasionally a ball is batted against the court house roof. The Brainerd baseball team gets a flying start on "Sunday" and candidates who wish to make the team are asked to be at the Roaring grounds at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Manager D. A. Peterson has in contemplation a game with the Royal ne on July 26 on the occasion of the state convention at Crosby when the lodge holds a three days' session there. Sunday will be the last day of the convention and Mr. Peterson hopes to arrange a date here so that the Royal League special train from Minneapolis, after almost three days at Crosby will spend a few hours in Brainerd on the trip home, unloading 500 delegates in Brainerd to see the game.

The Royal League team is a semi-professional team and has on its roster several college players. It is a first class team.

It is said Tom Considine, former manager of the Brainerd baseball team, made a home run last week and got married.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

The management has put forth a great effort to especially please everyone today and tomorrow. A more acceptable array of pictures and music has never been seen in any house in the northwest. The Sunday show has been made bigger and better than ever. Mr. Bergh will play the famous meditation from "Thais." This wonderful inspiration supposedly depicts the emotions of soul. It is Massenet's crowning achievement in music. The famous five will again be together and render some very fine music.

At the Grand

It is indeed a satisfaction to go to a house of amusement and come home thoroughly pleased that you have seen a play worth seeing. Tonight the Grand will offer a two-reel film that the management has spent much time in trying to present and the public is asked to come and enjoy it. The story of "Jane Eyre" is so wholesome and the characters so true to life, that when one sees this attractive play in reel life you will feel that you have been taught a lesson. Tomorrow evening is offered "To the Lion's Pit." If you like a play that is filled with action and the unexpected, this three-reel film can't help but appeal to you. The scenes are laid in Rome, and the costumes are those of the ancients. The story is of the beautiful Christian slave girl who rescues the Pagan general from a most thrilling adventure and eventually falls in love with him. This picture will arouse keen interest from start to finish and you will be thoroughly spellbound by this emotional drama.

I respectfully solicit the support of voters of Crow Wing county at the primary election to be held June 16, 1914, and if nominated and elected, I pledge my best efforts to the honest and efficient service of the people of my county and state.

I advocate and if elected will support: Legislation for greater state aid for roads and bridges.

Legislative provision for development of state lands by the state.

Any legislation that will help compel proper business-like economy and increase the efficiency of administration of the state's business affairs.

I believe firmly in the rule of the people and if elected shall support every measure which may tend to increase the power of the people in state government and all measures which may tend to the betterment of conditions in rural communities.

SITORS DAY AT THE WHITTIER

th Side School Visited by Over
00 Parents and Other Friends
Friday Afternoon

MISS LOUISE BARRETT, PRINC.

and Wafers Served by Young Ladies Who Formerly Attended
the Whittier School

Friday afternoon was "Visitors' day" at the Whittier school on the north side and Miss Louise Barrett, principal of the school, welcomed to rooms and showed the work of pupils to over 100 parents and friends. Teachers from the other schools also called and one member of the board of education, Rev. E. Carlson, found time to call. Tea and wafers were served by the young ladies who in former years attended the Whittier.

Visitors at the school were impressed with the fine work of the pupils, the days' work in various rooms being placed on exhibition. The baby department numbers 24 dolls taught by Miss L. Small, the children ranging in age from 6 to 7. Very good examples of writing and painting were shown here. Baby dolls made out their penmanship pieces, using lead pencils. The hand cutting showed paper elephants and a lone giraffe cleverly cut of paper. Little crayon sketches were also shown. Mrs. Addie Clark, chairman in the normal training department in the high school, was especially pleased with the showing made in Miss Small's room.

In the next room Miss Bess Muir is teaching second grade pupils, of whom, whose ages are from 7 to 8. There was on display some of the Christmas work of the pupils, paper cutting showing Easter flowers, lilies, daffodils and iris, examples of the pasque flower sketched from nature. Miss Muir's room, like the other rooms, has beautiful pictures, one having been presented by Mrs. Joseph Nicholson.

In Miss Elizabeth Summers' room all acquire their first knowledge of ink and pens. She has 47 pupils. The free hand cutting showed good representations of painted hills and tulips, butterflies and chicks. Children gain their first knowledge of water colors in this room. Their work in Easter booklets was especially good, the covers being original designs glowing with bunches of violets. Children are from 7 to 10 years old.

Miss Carrie McDougall teaches 41 pupils, ages from 9 to 13. There are on display in her room pretty paper color sketches, pencil drawings, language lessons of the pupils showed their careful and systematic training. A place of honor in this room is accorded the picture the room acquired from the Turner art exhibit which was held in this city.

In Miss Irene Lowey's room are 37 pupils. There were on exhibition examples of the work done in manual training, book holders, coat hangers, leve boards, match safes, etc. The girls exhibited sewing, their needlework embracing aprons, bedding, quilts for dolls, laundry bags, etc. Miss Moreland, domestic science teacher, and Miss Lowey teach the girls sewing in the rooms of Miss Barrett and Miss Lowey. The boys at their manual training education in the high school.

Miss Louise Barrett the principal's 28 pupils. She teaches the seventh and eighth grades. Work of the children was displayed throughout the room. This included examples of penmanship, arithmetic, language lessons, etc. The map drawing

BRAINERD GETS THE CONVENTION

Special to Dispatch:
Winona, Minn., April 18—Minnesota's greatest Sunday school convention is in session in this city. The 56th annual convention with 650 delegates and a strong list of speakers are in attendance.

The convention next year will be held at Brainerd. The invitation of that city was enthusiastically received and unanimously accepted.

is done according to Miss Barrett's system and the free hand work was of the utmost excellence. Sewing done by the pupils had a place of honor, the exhibit including aprons, pin holders, summer dresses for dolls, etc. Sketches in water color and pencil portrayed plants, flowers and vegetables in season. "There are 206 pupils in the Whittier school," said Miss Barrett. The teachers are six in number.

6:30—Union young peoples service held in the Seventh Street Norwegian church and led by Miss Lillian Jones.

7:30 sermon—Covered sins. Evangelist Lowry's sermon for Sunday evening, "Covered Sins," is what he terms his expensive sermon. It has caused numbers of individuals to make restitution for wrong doings and in many cases paying back stolen money.

The morning service at 10:30 will be a union service of all churches interested in the campaign with the exception of the Congregational church which will hold their services as usual.

The afternoon sermon is one of great interest to Christian people as more church members are interested in titling than at any recent period of the church.

The broadest sort of an invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

Monday evening Evangelist Lowry will read his scripture lesson and take his text from the Roman Catholic Bible.

"FASCINATING FANNY BROWN"

Comedy Given by Brainerd Dramatic Club Scored a Hit at Opera
House Last Night

SPECIALTIES WERE VERY GOOD

Miss Lillian Smith, Taken Sick in First Act, Valiantly Refuses to Leave Cast

"The Fascinating Fanny Brown" scored a hit at the Brainerd opera house last night and the large audience present which filled boxes, parquetry and balcony, attested by its applause the pleasure felt as the plot was unfolded.

This first play by the Dramatic club instructed by Mrs. C. L. Burnett met with instant favor. Each member of the cast played the part assigned with snap and vigor and there was not a dull moment at any point.

Early in the evening Miss Lillian Smith was taken very sick and was under a doctor's care. There was no understudy to take her part. Despite the advice of a physician she went on the stage and acted well her part and but few in the audience knew her quiet heroism.

Gene White was especially good as Percival Gale, who kept the summer hotel, "Idlewild." Werner Hemstead was Billy Pearson, the only man at the hotel. Frank Johnson was Henry Dudley, the college sophomore, who disguises himself as the merry and fascinating Fanny Brown.

Miss Frances Quinn was Mrs. Caldwell, Miss Cecelia Miller was Audrey Caldwell, Miss Esther Bellmuth was Dorothy Dudley and Miss Bertha Mahlum was Florence Howe. Lillian Smith was Mrs. Moffett, a neighboring cottager. Miss Gladys Alger was Martha, the servant.

Werner Hemstead and Miss Esther Bellmuth gave a singing and dancing specialty between acts which pleased the audience and they were cleared several times.

Great Exhibition of Nerve

The St. Cloud Journal-Press says: The latest word from Washington is that Congressman Lindbergh will give the greatest exhibition of nerve in the history of the district by filing as a republican candidate for re-election. He has worked this program quite successfully for two or three times, and then after he is elected denounces the party, and lines up with the Bull Moosers or the Democrats. However, any forecast of what Lindbergh will do is always subject to revision, as he is a very adroit political acrobat. The district has a real Republican candidate in H. J. Maxfield of Wadena, and it is up to the Republicans of the district to give him the nomination and election. He is good congressional timber, and is now making an active canvass of the district.

POLITICAL SITUATION

Senator C. D. Johnson Filed for Re-Nomination Yesterday—County Filings Quiet

In spite of repeated rumors that so-and-so had filed for this office and that somebody else had eliminated himself for some else, there were no more filings recorded at the county auditor's office since Pat McCabe filed for sheriff.

It is said that a crop of candidates for a lot of offices is about ready to break for the court house and file for something or other, but so far the deluge has not commenced.

At St. Paul yesterday Col. C. D. Johnson present senator of the 53rd district, filed for re-nomination. Mr. Johnson has previously been endorsed as senator by the democratic county mass meeting.

C. W. Bouck of Royalton, was in Brainerd and it is said the representative is to file for representative-at-large.

CROWDS ATTEND TABERNACLE

Large Audience Conspicuous for Number of Men Attended Tabernacle Meetings Last Night

MAKES MOST EARNEST APPEAL

Evangelist Lowry Made a Very Strong Appeal for Personal Work in Soul Winning

If there are those in Brainerd who have the idea that a very searching presentation of the gospel will not have a hearing, those persons were not at the tabernacle meetings on last night. A splendid crowd gave the evangelist the closest attention while he presented the needs, the pleasure, the wisdom, and the profitability of soul winning.

Evangelist Lowry believes in man's lost condition without Christ and substantiates his statements by liberal quotations from the Bible. He has little use for ideas about God and God's dealings with men which are not the result of a study of the Bible and is not timid in his denunciation of them while, as a true constructionist, he points his hearers to the way the blood of God directs men.

The first week of the meetings have closed and all interested are gratified at the interest shown. The crowds have steadily increased, the interest has been keen and the response at the after meeting last night when personal workers were called for brought forth the remark from Evangelist Lowry that the response was the best he had ever had at any place he has ever held meetings of this character.

The results of the meetings are also being shown in practical ways. As a result of the meeting one business firm has had one person return $16.00 stolen with $2.00 in addition for interest. This truly is bringing the results hoped for as expressed by Evangelist Lowry last Sunday evening when he said his purpose for coming to Brainerd was to make it easier for men to do good and make it harder for them to do evil.

A babbling drunk man occupied a seat near the front and when he left the evangelist said: "If you people who are voting for saloons are not ashamed of yourselves you do not feel natural—that is all."

The singing of the chorus under Director Moody is most inspiring. This is but natural for the best music written was inspired by the saviour of the world.

Mr. Lowry took for this text Proverbs 11:30. The fruit of righteousness is a tree of life, and he that winneth souls is wise." He spoke in part as follows:

"How strange it is that the great majority of the people of the world are allowing the things of the greatest importance to them pass, while they are giving their time and energies to the things of lesser importance. People as a whole seem to set little value upon things of time to satisfy their souls. The words of this text were spoken by Solomon, who has been considered the wisest man that the world has ever seen—he had an opportunity of testing all the sweets of life, yet he exclaimed in Eccl. 1:14, 'I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.' Often it is said of a man, 'He is not a success.' But who can tell what success is? Napoleon created an empire and died like an eagle tied to a rock; Caesar stood as the first man in Rome, yet he fell, assassinated by friends whom he trusted; Alexander founded an empire, and conquered nations, and died as the result of a drunken debauch; Mozart composed strains of matchless melodies and yet died in poverty and was buried in the potters' field; Herod

"Jane Eyre"

Read the Story Below and Decide

Jane, left an orphan in Reid family, is unhappy. She grows delicate under harsh treatment and the doctor orders her away to an orphan home. We next find her as governess to Odale, a ward of Rochester's. She falls in love with her young master and they are to be married. On her wedding eve she comes face to face with a crazy woman whom she finds to be Rochester's wife and has been locked in the attic a number of years. Rochester confesses all, but says his wife was forced upon him by his parents. Jane forgives, but decides to leave. The night Jane leaves the crazy woman sets fire to the house and then rushes over the roof from which she jumps and is killed. Jane saves her lover's life in this fire. He loses his eyesight and Jane guides him the rest of his life.

"THOR, LORD OF THE JUNGLES"

reached the height of his glory when the people hailed him as a god and then was smitten by the angel, eaten with worms and sunk into a dishonored grave. No matter what a man may do or undertake to do in worldly pursuits, the results are forever uncertain, but I am going to talk to you tonight about a business in which if you engage you may be sure of results for both time and eternity, and that is soul winning, the greatest business in the world. They that be teachers shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever. Dan. 12:3.

"A man is wise for giving himself to the work of winning souls in the first place, 'Because there is no joy and satisfaction so great as that of winning souls to Christ.' There is joy created in three places when a soul is won to Christ: First, in the heart of the man or woman won to Christ; second, in the heart of the individual that won the person to Christ, and third, there is joy in heaven for in the word of God we read, 'There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.'

"A man is wise for giving himself to the work of winning souls in the second place, 'Because he is doing the best thing possible for a soul.' Often we read of the death of a father who has worked hard to leave a legacy to his children. The world looks on and says, 'He has done a great work,' but alas, too often it proves to be the instrument of damnation to the son or daughter who is drowned in worldliness and sin because of it. Fathers and mothers, why are you saving up your silver and gold? Is it not that your beloved son may be rolled to hell in his chariot, pillowed and cushioned round about? Ten or twenty or fifty thousand dollars will buy the average young man a through ticket to hell, and they will get their baggage checked right through and all heaven and earth can't stop them. I hope to be able to educate my children to prepare them for life and eternity, but I tell you, fathers and mothers, I have no ambition to leave them money. You say, 'Why?' Simply because if they are any account they won't need it, and if they are good for nothing it would be a curse to them, and help sink them into hell. I would rather be able to lead my children to Christ Jesus than to be stow a fortune of a million dollars upon them. Sinner friend, I would rather win you to Christ than to be able to make you a millionaire.

"A man is wise for giving himself to the work of winning souls, because it is the work that Jesus would have you do. Mark 16:15-16, 'And He said unto them, go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned.' That is the command of Jesus to every follower of His. And He says again, John 15:14, 'Ye are my friend if ye do whatsoever I command you.' This is the test of friendship.

"One is wise to give himself to the work of winning souls because that is the only way that we can prove to the world that we are Christians. Jesus said, 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' I tremble for those professing Christians who have no concern for souls.

"One is wise for winning souls because of the promised reward. Dan. 12:3, 'They that be teachers shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever.' We are saved through faith, but we will be rewarded according to our works. Paul makes this plain in 1 Cor. 3:11-15, 'Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ; now, if any man built upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stone, wood, hay, stubble, every man's work shall be made manifest for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire, and fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon he shall receive a reward and if any man's work shall be burned he shall suffer loss but he himself shall be saved, yet so as through fire.'

Then Mr. Lowry showed in the next place that to be a successful soul winner one must be wise, 'First that he must be wise unto salvation, himself, this is, he must be saved and know that he is saved. I have never seen a professing Christian whose name was worth having on the church roll when it comes to practical work and soul saving who didn't have assurance—that is, know they were saved.

"Second, one must be wise in preparation. 2 Timothy 2:15, 'Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of God.' If the average lawyer knew no more about Blackstone and Kent than the average Christian does about the Bible, he would be a disgrace to his profession.

"Many do not engage in this work of soul-winning because they do not realize their personal responsibility in the matter. It seems that most people have got the idea that all we need to do is to build a fine church, put in a pipe organ, get a quartet, choir and a preacher, that will draw, and that is all that is necessary. In other words, the people have come to depend upon the pulpit to do all the work. Of course, a preacher isn't any good unless he will draw, neither is a chimney nor a porous plaster. But the preacher can't do it all especially while there are two or three hundred down in the pews drawing for the devil. In many churches to-day you will find 15 to 20 people praying for a revival and a hundred or two hundred playing for the prizes at the card parties.

"Others do not do this personal work because they do not realize that souls without Christ are really lost, but listen to this plain passage of scripture: James 5:20, 'Let him know that he which converteth a sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death and shall cover a multitude of sins.' Oh, that we could realize what it means to save a soul from death! People seem to have become more or less imbued with the satanic doctrine of Universalism, that some way, whether people repent or not, they will be saved, but this is not the teaching of the Bible. It was not the teaching of Jesus, who said more about hell and eternal punishment than all the other Bible characters. If there is no peril, we need no gospel, no atonement, no Savior, no church, no preachers. Let us tear down our churches or turn them into houses of merchandise, and eat, drink and be merry. But there is a peril that cost the blood of Jesus Christ, and where are your loved ones and your friends tonight? The strange thing is that you do not weep in anguish for their salvation.

"Many do not do this work because they say, 'I don't have time for it. But people seem to have time for every thing else—for the card party, the theater—but no time for religion.

"There is yet one other reason why many do not speak to people about their souls, that is, they have no compassion for the lost. The great soul winners, both in Bible times and in the history of Christianity, have been men and women with a compassion for souls."

Mr. Lowry closed the sermon with the following illustration:

"A shepherd one night when the storm was fierce, counted his sheep and found that two were lost. Going to the kennel where his shepherd dog was lying with her young, he pointed to the wilderness, which was ever growing darker, and said, 'Two sheep are missing, go!' She looked for a moment to her little ones and then up into her master's face and hurried away into the night and came back with one of the sheep which was lost. The storm had grown fiercer and the night darker, and the shepherd came again to the dog and pointed out and said, 'One sheep yet missing, go!' Looking down once more at her crying little ones and up into her master's face with utter despair, she arose and hurried away. Hours passed by and the shepherd heard a scratching at the door. Going forth, he found the dog, and she had the sheep that was lost, though tired and bleeding. Leaving it at her master's feet, she staggered back to her little ones and fell dead at the kennel door. 'Oh, friends, the shame of it; here a dumb brute, with never a thought of God and never a hope of heaven, obedient to her master's command when he spoke but a word; obedient unto death, but we have suffered our Master with nail-pierced hand, spear-thrust side and thorn-covered brow, to plead again and again, and we have refused to do his bidding. May God give us all of love for souls.

TRUTH.

Truth must be ground for every man by himself out of its husk, with such help as he can get indeed, but not without stern labor of his own.

Twelve Years of Success

Is Behind this New $1250 CARTERCAR with the Gearless Transmission

FOR twelve years the gearless transmission of the Cartercar has been giving the utmost in service and has proven under the most rigid tests that it is the simplest and most efficient of all drive systems.

New model 7 Cartercar has all the good features of this transmission, has the same careful construction and reliable materials that have been used in manufacturing the older models and yet sell for only $1250.

Model 7 is produced in two bodies, the five and two passenger, both on the same chassis, with a wheel base of 106 inches, built with the idea of room—good, wide seats and plenty of foot room.

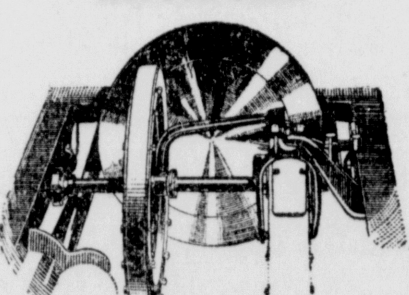

The bodies adopted are standard, by that is meant that startling changes of design will not be made each year in the body design, as this has a tendency to depreciate the value of your car.

Beautiful of design, superb finish, with a sturdy, powerful four cylinder engine, gearless transmission and electric starting and lighting and full equipment, Model 7 is vastly more than you would expect at the price, $1250. Let us take you riding in Model 7.

The Complete Equipment of Model 7

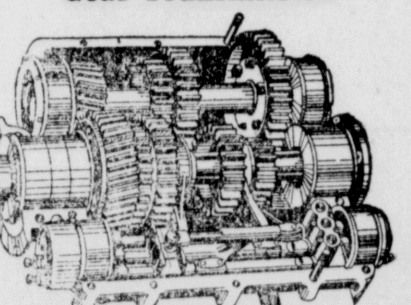

- ELECTRIC STARTING—Separate unit controlled from the driver's seat. Starting is effected by gear meshing with teeth on fly wheel.
- ELECTRIC LIGHTING—Controlled by switch within easy reach of driver's seat. Large headlights, side lamps and tail lamp.
- HORN—Electric.
- SPEEDOMETER—60-mile Stewart.
- WINDSHIELD—Double acting rain vision.
- TOP—Slik Mohair with full set of curtains, and top boot.
- ROBE RAIL—Furnished with Touring Car.
- DEMOUNTABLE RIMS—Five rims, with carrier for extra.
- GASOLINE GAUGE—Gauge on tank air gauge on dash.
- COLORS—Raven blue or French Gray body with black chassis, or French Gray wheels with either color body.
- TIRES—32x3 1/2 all around—standard makes.
- TOOLS—Especially complete set of tools, license carriers.
- All accessories are finished in nickel and black.

The Gearless Transmission Has Few Parts

Examine this cut of the Cartercar Gearless Transmission. The disk in the background is directly connected with the powerful, silent, four-cylinder motor. The wheel in the foreground is moved or "rolled" against the disk by pushing forward a lever at driver's right. This wheel "takes hold" and transmits the power with tremendous leverage from the engine to the rear drive wheels through a silent chain running in a bath of oil. The latter is called the secondary drive and is absolutely silent and practically wear-proof.

Complicated Mechanism of Gear Transmission

Choose any style of the gear transmission on the market and examine them. You'll find that their dragging cogs absorb and waste much energy. Do you wonder that frequently gear driven cars are said to "lack power" even with a high horse power engine propelling them? Gears like this are noisy, too, for they clash and groan even when you are careful. Then there is the constant danger of "stripping" an expensive and annoying habit that gears have.
